

"Modern poetry claims to be a vision, that is to say, a knowledge of hidden, invisible realities. It is true that the poets of all times & all places have said as much. But Homer, Virgil, or Dante insist that their poetry has to do with a revelation that comes from outside themselves: a god or demon speaks through their mouths... The modern poet declares that he is speaking in his own name: he extracts his visions from within himself. The disturbing disappearance of divine powers has coincided with the appearance of drugs as bestowers of the gift of poetic vision. The familiar demon, the muse, or the divine spirit have been supplanted by laudanum, opium, hashish, & more recently, Mexican drugs: peyote (mescaline) & hallucinogenic mushrooms."

—Octavio Paz

"If at some future period of the world's history men should acquire the art of flying, there can be no doubt that migration would become the custom, and whole nations would change their localities. Man has, indeed, been always a migratory animal... What men do only at intervals birds do frequently, having greater freedom of movement."

—Richard Jefferies

Where are you Child?
Are you in the Tall Grass?
Can you see the Planet's Currents in its arcing Bent?

What brings you leave of Solitude?
Is it the Waves of Wild Oats—
Or just the way they hide you?

Are you avoiding Supper and its fam'ly inquisition?

Are you worn out from Covert Games with the Other Children?

I too have found a Sweet Relief in Prospect & in Refuge
Have wished to live outside Surveillance & Rest my rusted Mettle from the reckless petty minds that meddle...

The tothead thinks—

Yet only lifeless worlds are blind, &
everyway we go beheld,
With watchings that repeat themselves:
that groove
The mind & sense of self.

All the open lines and tethers, open fronts you drink at night & wounds you probe and question with a queasy finger... 3

Dedicated to St. Ariel & the author age 12.

7:10 São Paulo—

Centered cell of numbered seats,
A sleepless press of bodies
Strain against constraint, containers.

By descent a mindwreck,
Neck-kinked, bleary, drifting
Tack & list toward slipspace sorted rows;
then

Watch an ad to hop on public network,
Sell a stare for signal;
Call a cab & grab a coffee,
Summon carriage, Japanese revival;
Gridded beats infrom global Starbuck station,

Shape my mouth in novel ways to Make the sounds which soon will come so Easily:

—Bonjia, um café com leite—

—Crêjito; sim, por favor—

A simple favor, would you? Paltry Pretense, game politeness, pass my plastic—
Skip the tip in strange, familiar waters—
Same old roles in same old Latin.

Our chatathon, with frontseat tickets:
Cars pulled up unloading friends
And leaving, loaded up on lovers;
Others coupled on the concrete,
Some third wheel spun feigned absence,
Privvy to some ancient cycle:
Hot-girl summer; cuffing season.
The dance had little hold
On husbandeyes wine-darkened,
Garden-gained, & knowing well the nature Of fermented fruit: Still, Imagination burnished,
'Liding all the effort burnt
In tactics and confusion.

Afterwards, well. I go home, and smoke on the street and give butt to a beggar. I drink a yoghurt and watch a guy go crazy, just screaming drunk in another man's face. Spot someone squat, and shit on the pavement and kick it, like a dog. I've been going round, photographing the inside of trash cans; I've been interested in a neighborhood's waste, in its disposal systems, in its use of clear & colored bags.

And I find O'Hara's "Personism"-surfing, back in bed, to fill the empty pre-dawn. Looking for voices; still not liking the sound of my speech, & mimicking music of others.

And because all these foreign placenames make me think of Frank,
Who loved to write his lines like letters,
I settle it then & there, to write this poem
to

Ariel, my brother, Cris, my boyhood self.

Anteros had flown down, hence the chatter:
We were in the process
Of deciding where to live,
And how. A course of trips to tell:
From New World to the Old;
From yesteryear's province now tomorrow's

We wanted a Latinate language; Wanted a neutral passport, in event of war.

Two to three dozen inches of rain;
Warmish weather pear-round and a little

To call our Kingdom; Nonstop flights to Newpork, for our Short-run social re-up missions.

It was hard, projecting yourself
Into some imagined future—Guessing at the form you'd take on fifteen years and half a million bucks.
The more we saw, the more it seemed arbitrary,

Where we settled. Spreadsheets helped To take the Romance out of Romance language.

O My Goldenfleece Girl; on your last day
We drove to Camburi, down the coast—
I was virgin when it came to açai, you know,

And the gilded stray who limped, before we

Of course we all thought of Tarzan—We'd all seen the movie, hadn't we?—
And the mere mention of tu/can lent a

Ô Mãe d'Água—
Early morning rising singing
Walking sandy sickle, bullion shore,
Along the veined & fatty sea & feeling young, eternal perched on Billion-year-old boulders, under ancient skies & all the Tidelines marked by barnacle, &
Not me crying, "Not this time!"
To loneliness, who many times before had tried
To wash upon these rocks of mine.

And driving long the skyway,
When the tunnel opened up on such big blue
We played a Bushy "Big Sky"—Kate's—& sang along, all Shouldershaking—Lost in flows, we nearly drove right off the ledge.

And then dropped at the airport poor Anteros—
Actually, she took a car.
After she was gone I rearranged the dining room.

Turned the TV on Megachurch &
Christian infomercial.

And I went to work for many hours,
In the darkness, under HVAC—hum,
& neither ate nor left until the sun rose
On the third of days...

Then so giddy, kicking, skipping on the sidewalk,
Like San Xobal, singing
Mama, Mama, Mama
Don't take my kodachrome away.

My mustache died a perma-purple, sipping those elixirs.
Such good times, I'd stumble downstairs past the doorguard find a table on the sidewalk, wait to say
The same words every time, a joy just getting right:
—Bonjia, todorem. Dois ovos, sim, mesquidos—
—E cafe com leite—e um suco com laranja, por favor—

And most times getting what I'd wanted, hoped and tried for.
Well, I won't trouble you with a theory of language
But it felt like singing, and it felt like magic.

And Cris? We were to spend a month together.
He'd been learning to read the city—
Blockquote, concrete syntax, gridded layout.
Taking the same walk everyday & seeing what happened—
How the parts fit—Perce counting cars—
He was writing about Parisian corn carts:
About mass & readymade units adapted Into custom forms, over years and generations.

He was interested in lightweight/portable/nomadic architecture.

In minimum-viable rigs.
The natural, everyday look of lighter
Coverage could not fool him.
He always noticed people's shoes;
I mentioned frost, abroad.
An exlover in Janeiro—
"That's the thing about Cris; he's always looking."
She said he was a gringo, for the way he wore his fanny pack.
(Insufficiently guarded).
She said he was a gringo, for translating "polvinho" to

Long digression—The plan was—
To walk, drink tea & mumble in the wood,
And sing to birds, & squeak a caller's zinc

And make strange sounds meant for myself,
And treat the voice as instrument, as men before had done
But mostly tried & failed

To make of type a moltenmetal—
Blended space a better place—
Which was not dissimilar
To the brass instruments

Where each word is really three or four

Its manifesto penned at lunch,
As Frank did it,
Or really in the House of the Owls, Rome
And developed in Trattoria Luzzi.

He wanted to write for all kinds—
Maybe for the money, no one really knows.

⁶ Rock's Rex, Pillow Talk

He was just as clever as Pound,
Just as wellread as Pound—
Knew more Latin—So his friends say
But he sought Quality in tonal tenor
Rather than learned reference.

New England's pasture poet:

It was a means to butter parsnips.
A labor of the hand much like the rhythm of a scythe, as it swishes the meadow:

Softspoken, cutting down ranks. I'm on a digression but how do I get used
to

The everyday violence of gardening, is what I'm always asking. Because there's something fascist (no?) in pruning branches, weeding roots.
Well. I've gotten away from plot, and will the editor kindly leave these?

New leaf; another ten; the doubletap to learn

That poetry was performance—Poets athletes, men of prowess.

(Humble men, these poets.)

And that Robert studied talky rhythms

(So did Ginsberg. So did Gaddis.)

Frankie surely; Bobby—

Listened to their music, tried to imagine how they'd sound through walls,

Freed from con or denotation, muffled—

Almost molten—out of all distinction.

Pound had showed him Bohemia, jiu-jitsu flipped him, heels and head, after dinner in some cafe

Frost was just as strong; he hadn't been ready

Read more Greek than Pound, he reckoned

And busted Pound right outta jail Settled it with the Attorney General, just like that

That's what you get, when you're famous When you're poet for the lawyers, and not just poets.

Frost, he leafed through anthologies.

His reading was lowercase catholic.

His American shoes gave him away.

Pound was all silence with eagerness.

His instinct said to stay away from gangs.

His mother ran a school in Lawrence.

Let him run some classes

when he felt like spring.

One last wetfingered tap & it's time to get going.

Taptap. Tatatap.

He'd read Emerson.

He talked in contraries.

Who didn't?

Whitman played without a net.

He'd never owned a desk.

Who needs one?

He reckoned his place among infinities

Didn't we all?

He went his own way

Inspired Sinatra to write a song.

Who are we kidding?

Sinatra didn't write his songs, but I will.

Don't we all, these days?

No. More assembling fragments.

Didn't we all these days?

No. Immemoried.

The lecture was very persuasive.

Afterward, hand in hand with his high school sweetheart,

He renounced the concept of intellectual property,

And burned with shame
For his love of indie rock.

Smile warm to traduttore traditore
Hostess of her hometown:
Tories sleeping in the kitchen.
(There's a law against that.)

So smooth she is in service

While distant train loops 5ths in ' / ,
On a swivel like an owl's neck the Camera tracks me as I move,
Naked between bed & bath &

All is long—

Every thing talks back, when we're alive
(A heron taught me that.)

Vegetal empire. Red fruit in the sun-faced green of the Morning's energetic harvest now announced by feathered flutes, and Green sun-panelled flapping fans that move within the Planet's currents:

Breeze that passes through the guavas, carries chatting prattle of the parrots, whistling

"Oh que buceeeeno" and "I'm talking to-ehyou."

And through the branches Heavenrays—tempted in my own sick way to say—Brigado to the old Brigades whose cutting brought me here today.

Can hear their echo of past presence.
Quiet forms, machete whack!
Of breakerpath, in Fallenstem & structure—State of the Green Tower, in the Age of Metal, singing, —Chattanooga answers / And your ma'am in Tennessee.—

And the mood changes as the goldleaf fades:
Cumulated cover which at first relieves will now not lift; a Cricket trill announces us the end of little world, like some Rose in garden Adonis.⁸

Eris and I start sharing voice memos and since he's been watching *Twin

Twin Peaks,

All of them addressed to some elusive Diane, which is really just the pet-name used to refer to each other.

Diane—

February 27th, 7:45 PM or nearly 20:00.
I've never seen so many trees in my life.

Making my own coffee in the house out here. My host is an exmilitary colonel, 5' 4" and distinctly indigenous, who for years lived among the Yanomami.
(Ya-No-Mami.) He showed me his collection of bows and blow darts. They wear bromeliads, made from feathers, upon their arms, as if their arms were tree-trunks.

Somehow they've gotten it into their heads
I'm a writer. The Colonel asks me how many books I've written.
He says, Only children read books here. Or so I think: We have been communicating by way of coarse & broken pidgin Latin.

Diane—

10:27 AM. Coffee on the kettle. My hosts have offered me a ride into Rio Grande, where I'll catch the train.
The Colonel offered but if I wonder if the Señorita is the brains behind the operations—he may be excommando but she's the family strategist. Was it this easy for blue-eyed bearded Cortez to conquer the hearts of the Mexico?

Or plume-capped Pizarro, further south? Poor huéspedes, to slay a host.

The Señorita is a sweet woman, and she is also a mother, who loves her family dearly. Which is what worries me.

Diane—

1:33 PM. I have arrived in Estação Luz and will be catching a car to Jaguaribe. Sorry to hear about the cold. Hoping it's mere coincidence, what with the MCO, if only to assuage my guilt. But cats will keep you up at night, & worsen irritation.

Sunday night sleeper works fine with me.
I, too, have had a helluva couple days & could use the R&R. Turns out it's hard work, *R&R*ing as Romantic poet—at least if you come to it with something approaching Protestant ethic. Still, the trip was beyond words—I leave satisfied that I have gotten in and out clean.

"Are you single?" "Yes"
Is pure permission
When a subject's tacit.
Gabe is here, he says,
To drink & piss & french
In any order; you say:
If a shark stops swimming...

Small tiff among sardines near Startles up stampede, with Defense read as offense
In an escalating cycle...

And all the boys are talking tactics
"Should I play the gringo? Feign

Foakleys, funk, & Rita Leona
Asking for a tongueless kiss
Then going in for bite.

Fest of fat and fleshy skin and Winkless sleep slowsetting in,
The Sun King and his sinking Queen
Their crowns of rays
Their solar spokes arrayed
In radiating angle
Tended by a bend of angels
Featherwinged, free of fetters
Wringing salt from festive tatters
Fire-singed and filing, singing
(Not trivial in tropic weathers) Wending toward the barricades, the Great brigades of cosplay tribes, the Front-row seats secured by bribes.

And what they sang?

—O céu vai clarear
Iluminar a zona oeste da cidade
& Deus vai desfilar
Pra ver o mago recriar a Mocidade
A luz que nos chega da estrela primeira
Nascida do pó no Cruzeiro do Sul

Do plasma divino das mãos carpinteiras
 Ressurge candeiá no breu nesse azul
 Será que o limbo da imaginação
 Perverte a inteligência
 O homem com sua ambição
 Desconhece a razão desatina a Ciência Será que há de ter carnaval, sem minha cadência?

Com alas em tom digital
 No fim da existência Me diz afinal quem há de arcar com as consequências?

Se a Mocidade sonhar
 No infinito escrever
 Versos a luz do luar, deixa!
 Quando o futuro voltar
 A juventude vai crer
 Que toda estrela pode renascer

O verde adocido da esperança
 Ofega sobre o leito da cobija
 Quem vive pelo preço da cobrança
 Derrama sua lágrima postiça
 Fogo matando a floresta
 Bicho morrendo no cio
 Febre no pouco que resta
 Secam as águas do rio
 E a vida vai vivendo por um fio
 Naveguei
 No afã de me encontrar eu me emocionei
 Lembrei da corda bamba que atravessci
 São tantas as viradas desta vida
 A mão que faz a bomba se arrepende
 Faz o samba e aprende
 A se entregar de corpo e alma na avenida.

We bid farewell to flesh and set out towards some Beautiful Horizons, in the General Mines.
 Pados for the journey;
 Morning spent in Burlé's garden:
 Sung to Jagger's ictus-accent,
 Every beat a stress:

-Lit/tle In/di/an fig,-
 -Where is your ownnnnn skin?-

And near a chapel perilous, on sugarcane plantation hill,
 O thousand-trunked tree all webbed &
 curtained
 By your symbiotes, your rounded staghorn scales, browning 'bove Bromeliads, which brace & cup your branches, catching rain.

Learn of leite politics while driving
 Through the lactate kingdom of a lesser

 State a stage in process, forming, History informing, never blank-start always twisting
 Writting, snaking; breaking down the self
 To build another up:

 Tropa, tronco, guided gridd
 Eito'n'lavoura, grooved carreira in alignment Oscillating oligarchs in Vin'n Yang collapsing
 Milk from young República, &
 Frothed en gran fazenda..."

By lateish afternoon we'd reached Hill country, pastureland where Shimmerwaves wind-racing cross the faces, Silver quickflow in the fore as

Pearl-lined clouds enormous, Currentpulled with all the rest, peck Godly light,
 While we atop indifferent engine,
 Bubbleglass enveloped barely sense it.
 Cris puts in his upper-decky soaring Carving in through shadowpatch and piebalds, Unfenced ungulates, us setting out to

 -A chessboard, gridded black & white &—
 -Inlaid into concrete table.—

Then drove from old Petrópolis, where some long-lost writer lived & died & got a street named after him.
 We play Genesis to Exodus, & skip around Ecclesiastical to Solomon, on Bluetooth speakers; & I asked:
 How far is proverb anyway, from catchy everyday cliché?
 (Well, Cris said, a chiliad. We left it there.)

The Beats wrote odes to Menfriends, Breaking from tradition—
 Troubadors and Bedouins—Instead—Sung ballads of heroic age to Celebrate the courage of their boys, in

 On red pared that leads uphill Unto the Church of Anthony,
 Of thousand feathergold rocailles
 Plant-dyed red rocococo.
 On laudinum, my thoughts turned in—choate and porous, reading old

Golden awe by self-description.

Walls all packed with whale, grass
And cowshit, hardened mud, the Greeks, Chinese, & Arabs carved, so Slanted eyes on half the cherubs
Hybrids of império era.
And ninety days by mule for music, Putrefactive oozing up from Floorboards for the patron's pleasure
Incense lit in steamy weather
Brides brought in bouquets to stifle
Smell of death with life, or something close:
The cellulose of life-stem snipped
And stripped of lignin, pressed
In sheets to take impress, collect
In this anthologize & wrecking prize:
Ninety days by mule.

O Ariel!
How have you become so heavy?
Bound in arborescence
By maternal witch.
When will you surge aerial,
And sing a higher pitch?

O Ariel:
Now though you serve a better master,
Still your heart beats faster
At a word like "free".

O Ariel!
A rebel angel, & a cynic Overcome by Abdiel,

The zeal of religious zealots.

So much I would say, would I saw Ariel.
Walking peat, Fennario.

O Ariel—
Thou hast been a Camel, once;
Now thou art become a Lion;
When the gyre turneth around,
Thou shalt be as Childe.

Thousand soft'ning rains.

Yesca in the hammock:

Cricketquiet,
Beetlebreze & birdcall
Smalltown silence,
Ruffled branches' windfall
Whispered dogfight
Butterflies like biplanes
Particles' positions showing Hidden currents
Like the hawk atop a thermal.

And all the birds in bin'ry rhythm
Perch, suspend, & perch again Perch & fly &
Rest & risk & rest again
Glide, exert & glide
Til distant thunder scatters.

Buffed by current flows & ebbs recurring subtly like Fortune's fastest layer fashioned from what shoreward ocean washes.

In the morning, up early, walk & autosong & paracosmic play that's interrupted by a century of beetles, still on glassy pool, nearby below electric bulbs,
and flat against the windshield.

Cris kicks his legs in chlorine, Tells me how a Language is a set of Patterns,

And the Patterns are the building-blocks
Of all the story Traces that we tell.

Says Cristóbal, this region's known for climbing, then corrects my accent:
"Meu nome é Cristóbal"

I say, fair enough but good luck iambs,
Other rhythms here resisting meter.

"Check the slicker" he says,
But no palheiros.
When I ask for climbing handholds
What I get are handles:
Crimps & jugs & pockets & rails,
In-cuts, slopers; slippery, glassy.
Then he gives one of his infamous reports from the interior.

Remember: Back in Brooklyn,
Eris had drunken-staggered (Twas a tipsybuzz at best;
This telling's fond of its excess)
-All this money, what does it buy you?
-All are heavy, drugged up the wazoo.

For gain'o'grain they banner-band together

Like Liberman had felt, regreso from thatched Filipino rooves
And breeze blocks
"My people full of lightness

-It was something like: A relaxation.
-It was something like: A lesson in negotiation.

Meatbeer breakfast, bar o'
Mushroom chocolate-
Parque nauseous, weathered under bower,
Dozenmile walk,
Sip finnest rums on Thames
(All overproof) &
Sideline goofing.

"Some folks are just like that- Treasured
by the Gods & better

Off avoiding effort."
(Others in the darkness drill, Chisel stone to timeless still.)

And me?
A screaming Carioc
Til dawn-
The rain, the fortune's sons
The blueridged mountains, rolling Rivers, smokehoarse
(Jeff had mimicked Satchmo)
Then, hungover, hair of Most exquisite science:
Heronbeast-hysterical naked,
Raving night-sweat, bedwet-
"Brotha!"

Cuntry to Seedy,
A classic migration,
Cycling makes analepsis proleptic amidst Idyllic cars and the echoing birdcalls,
A kind of uniformitarianism, Prophet's perfect tense not far from siehst, dann weine-

Which it was to Kerouac, in "Big Sur",
A fall, like killing Cain, who founded cities,
That book is a book about projecting your perception onto a landscape,
Like thinking the Heavens were a great dome overhead,
And then learning of yourself, through the glints of light that bounce back.

-But how do you choose your form? -
-How do you choose your name? How do you choose your life? -

How do you choose the time you must exhale—

And kick, and rise?—

In the same way us & all the yunguns Tempted by the views of light that shine through screens

Of distant wildlife, missed encounters, curtained parties

Work our way in labyrinthine and towards it,

Missing great white light that shines through keyhole polymorphous

No final form, said Knausgaard—

And what, then, might I risk becoming?

Triune darkness at the edge of town.

Distant Gladerunner ziggurat,

Back to the City of metamours and kipple
Vopodpne & Mordor

Where they eat numbers

Where shiny people dance to shiny music

And gather in the Afters

Of the snake 'n ladders of careers.

And me—voidward, narrowcast & murd'rous

Megaphone midst failson & faildaughter,

Slow beset by paterdreaming pitter-patter.

It was a paranoid time. Everyone so easy-spooked. Scared what people would say, scared of getting sued, getting deported, cancelled, censored. Scared some unforeseen and terrible thing might happen—punishment from God or Government, whispered Gossip.
 Closed-circuit cameras installed, in every homestead. We went out in masks and hoarded basics.
 No one would touch receipts or look at homeless people or even strangers, in case someone wanted to talk to them, breathe on them, kidnap their children. Kids needed to be constantly watched in case they were kidnapped, which could happen at any time or place. You had to be very vigilant. No one had had their child 'napped yet, but that was because of their great vigilance. Also, Ms.
 Acosta had a cousin, Rachel, whose roommate's child had been napped, and every once in a while on the national news you'd hear about it, or they'd put photos on milk cartons, so kidnapped kids could be recognized by grocery clerks.

He was a plastic surgeon.
 He had a key to a better life.
 He had a key to all mythologies.
 You were to acquire scars with pride of experience.
 He had learned this in Crescent City, from an eye-patched Creole,
 And abroad, in Deutschland—
 Where men wore saberscars like medals.

"The acquisition of a horrible scar [on these boys'] cheek had the same psychological effect as the eradication of the scars from the cheek of my [patients]... The magic was in the meaning..."¹³

The Magic was in the Meaning, he said.
 The knife was always the same; it cut the flesh;
 The Secret was self-conception.
 His method consisted of the Medical Art Of Creative Mental Imaging.
 He believed in new habits: of thought, & action.

We all had an in-built impulse for success;
 It had been put there by our Lord Creator.
 The problem was a blockage in our circuits.

To be someone you are proud of:
Doublefaced,
Double-anchored, one might change
The act or change the feeling,
To bring in accord, & I am so dilemma'd:

Thoughts like this my slumb'ring mind find so warmcarressing.

And when all the small soil, that the roots have held, that hold the roots in turn, erode—
And Trunk Tower topples, on its side,
It falls & forms a Bridge across the

Would I be nothing as a man, yet write about it?
And if I'm nothing as a man, have I
the right to tell about it?
When all the soil that held the soil that held the roots that held the soil—

In such rich irrigation, water-drunk to end & rot in em.
Undercut & caving in, crumbles in the current.

So make a system—else enslaved by others'—
Some reject, some emulate, the ways of

Of the stony script-carved ledger.

As Red Pine, staring out at sunset, summons Sixteen-Contemplationed Sutras,

So I think, in lunar gaze, of Prynne—
His quiet night all bound in rising-falling;
Grasping, letting go; a fidgeting & flowing.

"The continuing patience dilating into forms so much more than compact."
So much more than compact, Whispers Aeryn Sun,
A memory (it brings me back)—
I nearly had a self once.
Then I grew bored with brandings' borders,
Only saw their wild lack.

"The quiet suggests that the act taken extends so much further, there is this insurgence of form: we are more pliant than the mercantile notion of choice will determine."

It was less like dying, and more like diffusion,
In the sense of freedom. Open spaces have their own virtue, which the densest-set artifacts¹⁸ of man do not approach.

For consent is not enough, if our identities are fashioned for us. If they hold place in a system of social positions,
Which cannot be surrendered but, perhaps,
transcended.

Is this, I thought, the incapacity of keats?

A wide personal vacancy, allowing us to become

The extent of all the wishes now too far behind us,
A community of wish.

So now I'm learning:
Of fluorescence—versus incandescence
Lit up, glowing; take the picture
Fore the waves disperse, senescent.
So I'm draining cup & doubting;
Judging each my muscle movements
As if they were aspirants
To founding some new life-long habit.

So I'm vowing: Never to be bound to any wheel
But what which keeps the grainheap growing.

48

Dah! It's but an hour later—
Ere I have forgot it.

Dwaughngggghh. Dwaughngggghhh.
Dawauughngggghhh.
...Tarraco's tower tells the hour...

Much like Barcelona, once
Bipolarized, to port & fort,
To interface & introspect—
First in steady stepping gress
To speciality.

Like a barbell: public, private
Like a bridge between two islands;

Like a focc' and its gut;
With gullet-road to link them.

This neverending ludos,
Self-distinction seeking Econicheconstruction:
Guard a goal with equal spacing,
Campo's zone o' coverage.

Or how a flower's yellow petals
Radiate a center,
Seeking yet-uncaptured sun, while Tethered in Augustan walls. The Bloodred poppy, rooted pared, Young green in old stone while

—...Oo—Oooooo—Oooo—

Morning's "Dove?" coos in triple-time,
Playing hard to get, near cochineal,
Among the cactus fruits of feline colony.

Past limestone—Miocene—
The bossaged ashlar rows
And quoins, and azure waves.

Descent mimetic on misrecognition,
Like the bulls of Turin: honored time-tradition
From the golden olden gules, we strolled—
She talked of liquifying:
Talked of flowing finance, freezing over,
Talked expansion and contraction.
I was always looking down, wary of dogshit;
I was tired of looking down, and weary of my wariness—

Drank sangre to revitalize, in wooden chairs,
Feeling, on this day of days, like Eve by

Swinton.²⁰

Everywhere the talk of stock all falling Everywhere the doves in mourning
No more children anyway, the talk of Every birthrate falling.

-I must've been sundrunk & sleepdeprived,
-To buy that goddamn hat, trudging back from ruins.

Soft light on the Reus creamstone, Smell of oranges—
Cleaning fluid?
Gentle heel-tap on marble alley echo
Pinnate leaflets in a breeze-fall Wheeled windy out to sea which separates
And bridges all.

The Middle Earth:
Self-mastery is master's master;
Alabaster stone in sea of gatorade,
In silver foil, plated Middle-earth,
The public square of Ancients-world.

I wanted an accounting
Of how strong ships wreck
On subtlehidden stones.

I wanted an accounting
Of how many great composers
Never found a venue,
Never found a patron,
Never found their players.

I was done with watercooler writing—
Seedy news—
The sidelines broadcast was OK, but Shouldn't I be choosy with the games I chose to cover?

Anyway,
The best were all tacticians
Little soap, & not a lot of sugar.
Surface near-implacable, Uncrackable & placid as the Catalan brulé was eating in my decadence.

Stephen said, Look,
If you're not always trying & failing
To pay attention to near Everything in life then What are you doing?

Stephen said,
Too many big brave faces,
Scared of what might peek through pinhole
If they close their eyes.

And that the path was a mix of light and shadow,
And if that made the path a metaphor, fine.²¹ And that Beoffalo, the abbey's dog, wrote poetry, in his rosemary bush, and rode a bike to town.

I'm getting a head of myself. Well then,
I get ahead of myself.

The spirits argued with each other,
Shamed and cheered me from my shoulders;
Civic dust had set.
Mc & Newton & conchas.

A sky full of ghosts—
Light still traveled after the body was gone—
Or at least the body's form—

²⁰ Jarmusch.

Since substance equaled pattern.²²
 Was all this work not Christian, much like Bryan Johnson?
 Sacrifice the now to chance forever on a

I fall. (How do you fall?) I remember.
 I fly (How do you fly?) I remember.²³

Vermut:

A drowned & winged thing had slipped inside
 my drink;
 I lifted limp its body, which had sat all soggy
 Several minutes still & never stirring,
 Til it resurrected woke,
 & spread its wings
 & sunward rose.

Ver'gutt, her glutes, in rise & fall, but stop!

All these degrading games
 Encasing me in flesh.

Tempt: To try, to test, to stretch
 An arm, in feeling out for form.
 Contempt: A way to ward temptation
 Off, to hold beneath your station
 Or invoke a norm, to punish deviation
 That one's envious of.

A piston's pulse and rest is rhythm

 it is an effective power for healing and blessing even after death..." (Deborah Kapchan, "Henna and Tattoo," adapted.

Breath and kick and rise again,
 As muscles clenched, relax,
 And who are we, to claim exemption?

Saragoza! Where the streetlamps wear crowns!

Saragoza! Where sand runs red, and binders bind with calfskin.

Plenas pulsas planetarias; &
 We a pair o' peregrines, much aspirant
 To some transcendent pairing,
 Rising up with alas á la Lavoisier,
 Or Curies—They had chemistry!
 And me a Takhemoninomad, fast-talkin monad, 'static in a shorter Term alignment,
 Bab of his wisdom,
 The Spanish Miracle, Convivial product of convivencia under Blue-eyed Umappad.
 (Not like reconquistas, Crossing borders, birthing Catalan.)

Cæsaraugusta—so the Romans called it—Saragusta, spake the Moors.
 So al-Saragusti, student second-order
 Of the master al-Hariri journeyed from his homeland Westward
 Where the golden book were found.

"En 189 acunaba Henri Beraldi el término pirineísmo. Bajo él se agrupaba a aquellos que tenían la resistencia

de ascender por las montañas, la para transmitirlo a los demás." (Wall text, Veruela Monastery,

Broad Balboa, top a peak in Panama, saw sea to shining sea, & Me?
Grace to God for Southern Seas,
Horizons which approached, recede, so Occident could still suffice
For those who Orientalize
As Barbarians saw the Visigoths
And Moorish slavers praised blue eyes.

"Best thing to do is dig—
One thing or place or man,"
Til knowing more than any man about it
So said Olson, on committing, not so much
To form as to environ—
He should know! Avingland poet;
Jim chose foggy Dublin—
Who am I above it, Johnson?

& Beatific doubling, "dig"—
But I? In better moods dig everything, a problem—
Better-known to Beats—
Of too much sun & too much stim.

What's the answer, then, but study?
Smarter, harder—¿Porque no los dos?—
And better sure but slower, patient,
Play along Pareto's front a frontier,
Find the tax-free, rentiered double-dutied wins.

Well Pound & Olson, Prynn—
Had things for stones now didn't they, Sculpture, rockeology, and chiseled gemstonepæms
Or stacking layers, timely sediment, &

Wood turned mineral by pressure,
Polished sequence shining.
Not like jamband Kerouac, who tossed it out Diffuse and free.

Permanent poetics and its birdsong—
What is beautiful, ephemeral,
What lasts, a leaden echo?

& the work of the morning is methodology:
how to use oneself & on what.
That is my profession.
I am an archæologist of morning."

More said Olson, cern'ing thru accumulation,
Centuries of text—
He loved the taste of soil, so he said
And who are we to suspect?
Zeke was gave the infinite, &
A healthdaze craving bentonite.
Olson hunted hardened clay for scratching;
Stored his psychedelics in an owl idol —fieldwork composing—Chewed on alien maize, & gathered rosette potsherds.
Put together fragments watching indigenies' sheepherds.

Ô Mãe d'Água. If we are in the morning of man,
Then that is a time for questions of method.

Dawning, always dawning, downing, setting;
every Veil just a vantage so select positions wisely.

Rather than commit, exploiting Onward go with our exploring:

Carnival to Lent to Easter,
 Feast of feasts in feastly cycle.
 Cross the Roman West in armchair, Wordsworth's Alps & Meister Darwin; Banks' Tahiti, Byron's Childe;
 Time Tombs of Hyperion.
 Goethe's Journey; Cook, von Humboldt; Brönte, Stevenson, & Melville.
 Or Carvajal, who blessed with final glance
 At Amazon as civic wonder, squandered handsome,
 Caught up anxious in some future prison,
 Couldn't soar with kapak orchestras,
 Or justify his sight with reason.

There is no time, these days, they say,
 To drink the blood of Christ
 (There is no other time)
 Nor take the waters
 Cannot even taste our sweat.
 To not be like that Carvajal—is any nobler promise set?
 (Or Corpsep. Kid is showing promise.)

And too reporting (after Johnson) with An eye to study men & manners Protocols for huéspedes, and hospice philoxenia
 As well as science, landscape, custom, way of life—
 In short, becoming those gold men of letters, who
 To Andalusian soil gathered knowledge in their travels
 Cross the cultures.

(Past-tense playing Perhaps, pleas to coffee date:
 Five minutes can you spare me, girl; You'll get Eternity.)

Kiss me darling, as I fly.

From Death to Resurrection lie:
 Ye, I had known the natural cycle
 Sunlit seasons, springtime tidal.
 Never, til now, in Catholic Europe
 Did I know their rite & symbol, & Swearing in a clearing, under God's first temple
 That I'd bridge the basalt with the birdsong nimble
 —& other oaths, which do not scan—Of permanent pacts: what can last & what is beautiful
 And what is ever slipping lost,
 Into unrecovered past.

For who else would report—it's not a matter of could—that chatty
 "cio", informal, lost its whiff of offense, being constantly invoked by tourists til the mothertongue was chastened?

And who else would report that CaliValley apps were sync'ing up the world, teaching protocols and virtues;
 graphics, language, system?

—If there are no walls, there are no names—

We're still hung up on Charles, contra native Paz,
 Who saw in lined borders only stoppèd separation:

Said, The mill? It squeeze juice from life;

He could see the grain collecting—All his Cuartos, calles, ruas, rooms divided Man from man, & from himself, a violence
 Mourning "nuestra unidad"—an unidad perdida.

O homogenocene!
Our Whitman's world, spanned Except as farce at first & second nightmare.

To navigate a gridded street,
And choose between two turns like frosted flakes.

Do streets constrain us, or enable passage?

One need only hack, like Carvajal,
Through undergrowth to know the difference.
And the merchants' code of choice?

Now an ethic of consent, argued by dissenting voice.

So all agreed—to's fine,
& that which isn't, isn't.

How simple is what simple does,
Such beauty in its symmetry, &
Power, then, is set aside;
Its problem now is primary.

Wonder: Who has set the table?
When & why assigned the labels?

54

But the Wind,
Like light & fire
Is wild & free,
Connecting distant things—
& I am that Wind,

Here, on the metamorph, Montseny.
Carrying signs & buoying wings.

Here I pass an archivist, who prepped librettos for the best.

Here is one who digs in weeds for herbal, ointment, spice & seed.

Here a politician, like a hound-dog pulled to power;

Here a merry-faced mortician, manning body's latest hour.

Here I pass a pilgrim who in past life was a sybarite;

Now flagellant, he bears the lashes
Of the braided leather which I lift & lift like flag, to bare his back, thereby to better know him.

Now I pass a stony cliff: A wave so slowly crashing only God & I can see it.

What sweet song will I bear to thee?
Or blessings billow, Buddha's sacred flags,
Or shepherds' dying whistles far across the weighting canyon.

For the beauty of this place crases thought of waiting for damnation.

Do I dare to speak, disturb a peach, or preach an icon's quiet?

Do I dare say "Change your life" to clients?

Will I keep an analytic blankness?
Let the torso's form & wife speak for my better bitter message.

Or do I dare invoke the Cross, or share cross-legged lotus lessons?

Words are only ever pointing; moonlit shine
the flames reflecting.

Youth like me know nearly nothing.

55

He on a piedra, she a pied-à-terre
In prairie still I heard a starling

Rattle, prattle to its darling,
 Di & notte, so a
 Sowing song that summoned mower,
 Mourning dove at dawn on rooftop, Roam & roving, raving mad at reaper's progress,
 Speed of strife~~ful~~ strive & striding
 Thru the tallgrass sashes, passes Bearing, steering, ripping, stripping.

 Seeds his medley mettletested, restless,
 prescient;
 Spat a stateley epithet & spake soas to Sate the breast, & sans all rest, so
 Dear to ear & deathless, sleepless, Tire when & only pyre's fired, that his Song the verdure quickened: Grass its grassing;
 Grazer, grazing; sped & fed the fiddlesickle,
 Softly sighing.

 Still it little mattered to some tattered Scattered tones intoned against the stone unheard,
 No living stirred
 Nor stared, nor started at his Art—
 The starling prayed & swift departed in A parabolic arc.

And there are no faces anymore, the World

Instead we are a system of other signs,
Which speak to our position, assets,

All but emotion—

And are become in turn our masks,
And not the feeling under them.

When did I love the city? When I was

Or when I dreamed of what it worked, when work that way did not.

Do we still believe that Beauty

We brought him cheese, &
 Pink-lady apples;
 He traded purple garden artichokes for red transulence gooseberries,
 And spoke on the beauty of van Morrison, Donne, and Dylan's Backpages.
 We brought the dog treats;
 And I learned the meaning of hospitality,
 The olive sprites bowed in breezy grace.
 But he'd never heard "Summertime in England",
 And found Malick hopeless slow.

He led a meditation with Sanskrit cant;
 Learned from his father before him,
 Who'd learned it from India,
 An Eastern infusion, for a church in much need of it.

I asked him how he chose the block to carve,
 And each of a million chisels,
 And the shape they summed to.

And I asked the tower how it chose a hill to tower from.
 And I asked the valley plot of land its plan and if it liked its veil.

And I asked the vine the trellis,
 How it pathed up red, How short its sight, How great its power where it long had learned to flourish,
 In the search for light—

Except, sometimes, in stranger soils,
 And quick-shift environs.
 Then it climbs toward rays which will not feed it;
 Then it feels, seeking, for what form it will not find there.

Italy for a walkabout.

Tourism was the new pilgrimage.

It was a practice of contemplation and prayer.

You could draw the mountaineering throughline from the Romantics.

These days, climbers were less interested in the theoretical victory of the summit.

So much stayed the same while changing
names.

He wanted to know the difference between hermit & homeless;

Escape and exile, she answered. How you spend your hours, that's what counts:

Self not in noun, but verb.

We were in search of a heavenly home,

Somewhere under God's rays

Enough rain but not too much

We wanted to do something simple,

Land to ramble

Space to sing unheard except by bird,

To live in stone & sun & vegetal;— &

Leisure work & play all one,

Or least their alternation.

—What cannot be accomplished in simultan'ity

—Is easily accomplished with Temporality.

Travel as timetravel, a trip to the country.

Ask em to perform the old ways, throw em

Wash our feet in cool stream.

In Napoli

We gazed upon the sea

Its isles of time

Its oceans of perspective,

And the cliffs sang hymn to the setting

 So many Children in the World still!
 So many Kids left in the World.

It was uncultured, to have children.
 It showed a lack of loyalty to one's city.
 It was an insult to gay lifestyles. I was

 We knew a few acquaintances. One pair we liked especially in Boston.
 Met the little one.

There are you, Child! Little Lamb.

-One need not always stand ready-
 -Able to explain oneself-
 -Who one may want to-Take this from one who desperate wants to be a goodman

 That it's in my interest to become one-or to Seem one, to Myself, eternal question, set it aside;
 Still the search to mitigate
 A second order

-One need not always plague oneself with premonitions-
 -Save the energy expended, visioned future-
 -Flames on goal & chalice-glow

Live without regret and guilt
 And try to follow lark and not to flee from Love and leave by golden carrot,
 Not to learn by errors but
 To double-down on deeds then.

-One need not seek for fountain flowing filling by itself in endless motion-
 -It will never be enough-
 -It will never last forever.

Thus ends this alba

Wherever you are I hope you're right in front

such is inalienably magical.
